

Collaborative Projects

An Interdisciplinary Study

Edited by
Andy Blunden

BRILL
LEIDEN BOSTON
2014

Table of Contents

Introduction: 'Collaborative project'

Andy Blunden

Origins of the idea of project as a unit of activity	1
Project as an interdisciplinary concept	5
The concept of project	15
Overview	19
Research Projects	19
Reflections	23
Contributors	27

Part One. Research Projects31

1	The projective method as the basis of continuous education.....	33
	G. G. Kravtsov & E. E. Kravtsova
	The Golden Key schools.....	35
	The program of continuous education	39
	Studying Psychology	40
	Problems of Psychology	41
2	The dialectics of collective and individual transformation
	Eduardo Vianna, Naja Hougaard & Anna Stetsenko
	Theoretical grounding of the project	46
	Students as emerging activist scholars and agents of change	57
3	Could Life Be... Producing subjectivity in participation	65
	Morten Nissen
4	Rhythms of collaboration	81
	Vera John-Steiner
	A. The dynamics of joint endeavors	81
	B. Collaboration is not groupthink	83
	Developmental issues	86
5	Seeking to combat educational inequality: The 5th Dimension	89
	Michael Cole & Virginia Gordon & William Blanton
	The 5th Dimension - Origins	89
	The 5th Dimension as a tool of research.....	92
	Reflections on the project as mode of research	104
	Partnerships as the unit of analysis.....	105
6	Formation of the concept of "Collaborative Learning Space"
	Andy Blunden & Michael Arnold
7	Mayslake: Starting from scratch.....	123
	Helena Worthen
	A four-year struggle: Mayslake	125
	What did the struggle accomplish?.....	134
	Conclusion.....	135
8	The collaborative project of public deliberation
	Ron Lubensky
	Barriers to public deliberation	142
9	Vygotskian collaborative project of social transformation.....	151
	Anna Stetsenko & Igor M. Arieviditch

	Broad foundations of the Vygotskian project	154
	Postscriptum	162
10	Change through collaboration Jennifer Power
	Competition or cooperation? Three projects	166
	De-medicalization of AIDS?	170
	Conclusions	175
11	The miracle fiber exposed as a deadly threat Lynn Beaton & Andy Blunden
	History of the campaign against asbestos in Australia	180
	Dying for the boss.....	189
	Conflict and collaboration	190
12	Tahrir: A project(ion) of revolutionary change Brecht De Smet
	Past and present	194
	Inside and outside	196
	Teleology and immanence.....	204
	The limits of Tahrir.....	206
	Part Two. Reflections.....	211
13	Alterglobalization and the Limits of Prefigurative Politics	213
	Brecht De Smet
14	A reflection on the feminist movement Lynn Beaton
15	The peer activist learning community: A peer perspective	221
	Mike Rifino, Keiko Matsuura & Francisco Medina
16	Reflection on collective and individual transformation.....	225
	Ron Lubensky
17	Play through the prism of projects.....	229
	Natalia Gajdamaschko
18	Human flourishing in developmental education schools Chiel van der Veen & Lynne Wolbert
19	Reflection on complementarity and mutual appropriation	237
	Vera John-Steiner
20	Spirited collaborations.....	241
	Greg Thompson
21	Emotional commitment	245
	Manfred Holodyski
22	Projects, activity systems.....	249
	Helena Worthen
23	Toward a mesogenetic methodology	253
	Michael Cole
24	Conclusion: Time and activity Andy Blunden
	Index	259